12/06/2021	20	ORAL ORDER: The Court, having reviewed Petitioner Google LLC's motions to compel responses to its third–party subpoenas issued to Respondents Terrier SSC, LLC and BP Funding Trust (the "motions to compel"), (D.I. 1), as well as Respondents' motions to transfer the motions to compel (the "motions to transfer"), (D.I. 10), hereby ORDERS that the motions to transfer are GRANTED. Federal Rule of Civil Procedure 45(f) states that "[w]hen the court where compliance is required did not issue the subpoena, it may transfer a motion under this rule to the issuing court if the person subject to the subpoena consents or if the court finds exceptional circumstances." Fed. R. Civ. P. 45. Here, both Respondents consent to the transfer of the motions to compel to the United States District Court for the Western District of Texas ("Western District of Texas"). Beyond that, it makes good sense for the Western District of Texas to resolve these motions to compel, because that Court: (1) is the issuing court regarding the challenged subpoenas, (D.I. 1, exs. 1–2); and (2) has already addressed — in a set of cases that are related to the instant litigations — the extent to which certain of the documents at issue in these motions to compel should be produced (in light of standing and relevance concerns), (C.A. No. 21–419, D.I. 13, ex. A at 2–3; D.I. 12 at 4–5). Cf. Fed.

R. Civ. P Rule 45 advisory committee's notes (2013 amendments) ("[T]ransfer may be warranted in order to avoid disrupting the issuing court's management of the underlying litigation, as when that court has already ruled on issues presented by the motion or the same issues are likely to arise in discovery in many districts."); N. Atl. Operating Co., Inc. v. Dunhuang Grp., C.A. No. 18-MC-154-LPS, 2018 WL 3381300, at *2 (D. Del. July 11, 2018) (finding that extraordinary circumstances existed in the case "such that transfer [of a motion to compel wa]s warranted so as to not disrupt the issuing court's management of the [u]nderyling [a]ction" and finding that transfer was "likewise appropriate" and would "promote judicial economy and avoid the risk of inconsistent rulings" because the issuing court "[wa]s better suited to decide whether the subpoena should be enforced" in that the issuing court, inter alia, had already ruled on related issues). In light of the Court's ruling, it need not address the motions to compel further, as they will be addressed by the Western District of Texas. Ordered by Judge Christopher J. Burke on 12/6/2021. Associated Cases: 1:21-mc-00419-MN-CJB, 1:21-mc-00440-MN-CJB(mlc) (Entered: 12/06/2021)
